Fairness Commission

The Fairness Commission has the objective to iron out a dispute between members or to judge over ethically questionable actions by one or more member(s).

Build-up

The commission is composed of:

- 3 Judges

Judges stay anonymous and need to be impartial regarding the issue.

- 2 Controllers

Controllers are official elected persons by the GA and interact as voice between the judges and the member base.

Voting system

Voting of Judges & Controllers

1. A hat is filled with the names of everyone who is not involved in the case.
2. 5 tickets are drawn. The first 2 will be opened and announced. Those will be the controllers.
3. The controllers get the remaining 3 tickets. These Tickets will be opened in secret.
4. The controllers will contact the judges via gpg encrypted email.

Hearing

1. Question round: Everyone can ask questions and the defendant has a chance to defend himself
2. Judge voting
3. Judges write their decision via email to a mailinglist which anonymises the emails.
4. The controllers receive this decision and anonunce it to the rest.

Sanctions

If a member is found "guilty" the following sanctions may be applied in these exact cases:
